

Prosperity: what, how, who, when

By Avneet Singh

Published: Sept 19, 2024

ISBN: 979-8339759041

Format: Paperback, Kindle ebook

Pages: 303

Website: <https://voiceofmankind.org/prosperity-book.html>

Available on Amazon:

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/B0DHKQLFRC>

"Prosperity: What, How, Who, When" is a book with compelling exploration of the historical and contemporary factors that have shaped the economic landscapes of nations.

It delves into the paradox of prosperity, arguing that while tyranny and poverty have been the historical norm, prosperity is not an elusive exception but a tangible goal.

The book asserts that prosperity is not a product of fate or luck, but rather the result of conscious understanding and strategic planning. Drawing from a rich tapestry of global history, cultures, ideologies, and scientific breakthroughs, it provides an insightful analysis of the entities that have successfully fostered prosperity and those that have faltered despite possessing the right ingredients.

More than just a historical analysis, this book offers a strategic roadmap to prosperity, challenging readers to move beyond good intentions and rhetoric to embrace effective, purposeful action.

Suggested Q&A and Talking Points with Avneet Singh

- Current perfect storm of global poly crisis
- Illusions we have regarding prosperity
- Structural and impersonal forces at work
- Devil's advocate for the current system
- How do we bring prosperity: non-coercion, small government, world order, Needham question, 4th and 5th industrial revolution, loonshots: achieving the impossible, immigration, managed transition
- Secondary and peripheral factors: e.g. religion, ethnicity, IQ, weather, history, race, geography
- Who brings prosperity: organized, aware, committed minority at cross roads of history
- When do we get prosperity: at cross roads of history
- Poisoned Well: how do we lose prosperity: overpopulation, climate crisis, obesity, food, health, democracy, racism and xenophobia, welfare state, institutional lying.
- Role of Statesman for managed transition
- Personal prosperity
- Message of Hope

About the author

Avneet Singh is founder of Voice of Mankind. Voice of Mankind helps people 'Make Sense of this Changing World' through 'Ideas + Communication'.

His work involves research and advocacy on matters of public interest. He provides original analysis, provokes thought, and enlightens on issues relevant to all of us.

Avneet did his Masters from University of Oxford, and has more than 15 years' experience writing in various domains. He has managed projects and relationships for large publicly listed companies.

Voice of Mankind combines his skills at articulating abstract and complex issues, and presenting them in simple practical terms.

Email: avneet@voiceofmankind.org

Website: <https://voiceofmankind.org>

Twitter/x: <https://x.com/voicemankind>

Faceook: <https://www.facebook.com/prosperitybook>